His interests go from smallness of the entomological world to the greatness of the cosmos.

In his work are frequently seen insects, celestial bodies and portraits; being these the midpoint and spectator of the vastness of the other worlds.

Recently, he has been focused in portraits; “I like to call this series of pieces, “Personal Universe”. The production of these pieces is rather automatic and visceral”.

The main idea of this series is that the image of each and every one of the people that we see throughout our lives are stored in some place of the subconscious. Based on this idea, he makes the Portrait of these individuals, that in one way or another have become part of his life, hence affecting what he is in that exact moment.

Ixrael Montes was born in a small community of the Costa Chica, in Oaxaca, Mexico, in 1971. He spent his childhood enjoying the peculiar vegetation of his hometown and grew among cows, herons, iguanas and dogs. In 1991, when he was 19, he moved to Oaxaca City to study visual arts at Escuela de Bellas Artes de la UABJO, where he met a teacher that would become a great influence in his art and life, master Takeda. He has devoted 20 years to painting. His work references everyday scenes that generally go unnoticed by most, and has hints of irony that play with the leading roles of the characters and elements he uses in his fabrics. Montes constantly resorts to images of animals and landscapes reminiscent of his childhood.

The collections of Ixrael Montes can be found in the University Museum of Contemporary Art (MUAC), Mexico City; The Institute of Graphic Arts of Oaxaca (IAGO), Oaxaca, Oax; The Universidad Autónoma Benito Juárez (UABJO), Oaxaca; Brownsville Museum of Fine Art, Texas, USA. And the University Museum Casa de los Muñecos, Puebla Pue.

Born and based in Mexico city. Studied a bachelor's degree in Communication Sciences from the National Autonomous University of Mexico (UNAM) and photography at Active School of Photography (EAF). Has obtained some awards, the last ones: Winner in the contest Selfexpression from Saatchi Gallery London (2017) and Winner of the Self-portrait category in Mobile Photography Awards 2017.

Obsessive observer. I found in photography the language to express my introverted personality, as a way to fragment and externalize my mental universe. I use colors and spaces as emotional analogies gestated from my life experiences. I try to explore the human and its complexity starting from self-referential narratives.

AWARDS

- Winner of the Self-portrait category in Mobile Photography Awards 2017
- Winner in the contest Selfexpression from Saatchi Gallery London
- Special mention in the “Women photographers of latinamerica” contest, 2017
